

THE ACADEMY

A WEEKLY REVIEW OF LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

No. 194.
[New Issue.]

SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1876.

PRICE 3d.
[Registered as a Newspaper.]

CHATTO & WINDUS, PUBLISHERS.

MR. EMERSON'S NEW BOOK.

Small 8vo, cloth extra, price 7s. 6d.

LETTERS AND SOCIAL AIMS.

By RALPH WALDO EMERSON.

"His method of work is that of great thinkers. Gradually he absorbs and assimilates whatever science or history can furnish, and slowly and reflectively he gives us the result of his thought."
Athenaeum.

3 vols. 8vo, cloth extra, price 36s.

HAYDON'S CORRESPONDENCE AND TABLE-TALK.

WITH A MEMOIR BY HIS SON,
AND 33 ILLUSTRATIONS.

"Since the appearance of the 'Greville Memoirs' there has been no collection of reminiscences which compares with this in point of interest."
New York Times.

"We have as yet been unable to render justice to the wealth of Haydonian anecdote and apophthegm contained in these volumes, or to their stores of characteristic correspondence with and from Wordsworth, Keats, Miss Mitford, and other distinguished persons. We shall return to them with this design. The volumes are among the most interesting produced or likely to be produced by the present season."
Examiner.

"One of the most moving histories that has been published in modern days. Haydon's case has never before been fairly laid before the public; the man has never been shown as he was in truth, through the medium of his correspondence, his diaries, sayings, and actions. Charming correspondence, and still more charming table-talk."
Morning Post.

"Here we have a full-length portrait of a most remarkable man. His son has done the work well—clear and discriminating on the whole, and writes with ease and vigour. Over and above the interest that must be felt in Haydon himself, the letters afford us the opportunity of studying closely many of the greatest men and women of the time. We do not hesitate to say that these letters and table-talk form a most valuable contribution to the history of art and literature in the past generation. The editor has selected and arranged them with uncommon judgment, adding many notes that contain anecdote and anecdote. Every page has thus its point of interest. The book will no doubt have a wide audience, as it well deserves."
Nonconformist.

MR. SWINBURNE'S NEW POEM.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, price 6s.

ERECHTHEUS.

By ALGERNON CHARLES SWINBURNE.

"Matured thought and ripened power are brought to the task of recasting old fables. Our extracts, copious as they are, fail to convey an idea of the sustained strength and beauty of the entire work, which we are inclined to rank as Mr. Swinburne's masterpiece."
Athenaeum.

"The harmony of all the parts is perfect. Our 'Erechtheus' is as living to us now as it would have been to an Athenian. To such altitudes, rarely scaled by the first of poets in the modern age, has he ascended. 'Erechtheus' is in truth a masterpiece. A poem which appeals to men of all nations and of all times."
Academy.

"A riper, larger, and nobler companion piece to 'Atalanta.' Before this we had no whole work from his hand where the full height of his energy went along with full mastery of his workmanship. We have such an one in 'Erechtheus.'"
Pall Mall Gazette.

W. S. GILBERT. Crown 8vo, cloth extra, 9s.

ORIGINAL PLAYS BY W. S. GILBERT.

"A Wicked World," "Charity," "Palace of Truth," "Fynallion," "Trial by Jury," &c.

"His workmanship is in its way perfect; it is very sound, very even, very well sustained, and excellently balanced throughout." "Observer."
"Mr. Gilbert has done well and wisely to publish in a collected form some of his best plays. 'The Palace of Truth' and 'Fynallion' and 'Galatea' may be read and enjoyed as poems by persons who have never entered the walls of a theatre."
Standard.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, with Vignette Portrait, price 9s.

LAMAN BLANCHARD'S POETICAL WORKS.

Edited, with a Memoir, by BLANCHARD JERROLD.

"His humorous verse is much of it admirable—sparkling with genuine spirit, and as polished and pointed as Fraed's."
Scotsman.

Crown 4to, in an elegantly designed binding, cloth gilt, gilt edges, 31s.

HISTORICAL AND LEGENDARY BALLADS AND SONGS.

By WALTER THORNBUURY.

Now first published in a collected form. Illustrated by J. Whistler, John Tenniel, A. F. Sandys, W. Small, J. D. Watson, G. J. Pinwell, F. Walker, and others.
"Will be welcomed by all true lovers of art. We must be grateful that so many works of a school distinguished for its originality should be collected into a single volume."
Saturday Review.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, gilt, 7s. 6d.

THOMAS HOOD'S CHOICE WORKS.

Including his "Early Essays and Sketches," "Odes and Addresses," "Whims and Oddities," "Minor Poems," "The Cream of the Comic Annuals," "The Pies of the Midsummer Fairies," "Hero and Leander," "Lyons the Centaur," "The Two Peacocks of Bedford," "National Tales," &c. With Life of the Author, Portrait, and over Two Hundred Original Illustrations.

Also, uniform in size and price.

YACHTING IN THE ARCTIC SEAS:

Or, Notes of Five Voyages of Sport and Discovery in the Neighbourhood of Spitzbergen and Novaya Zemlya. By JAMES LAMONT, F.G.S., F.R.G.S., Author of "Seasons with the Sea-Horses." Edited, with numerous full-page Illustrations, by WILLIAM LIVESAY, M.D.

In 1 vol. crown 8vo, cloth extra, with Portrait and Facsimiles, 12s. 6d.

THE FINAL RELIQUES OF FATHER PROUT.

Collected and Edited by BLANCHARD JERROLD.

"It is well that the present long-delayed volume should remind a younger generation of his fame. The charming letters from Paris, Florence, and Rome. . . . are the most perfect specimens of what a foreign correspondence ought to be."
Academy.

"Sparkles all over and is full of interest. Mahony, like Sydney Smith, could write on no subject without being brilliant and witty. . . . A biographical sketch is prefixed."
British Quarterly Review.

MR. HEPWORTH DIXON'S NEW WORK.

2 vols. 8vo, cloth extra, price 30s.

WHITE CONQUEST.

By WILLIAM HEPWORTH DIXON.

"White Conquest" is no whit inferior to the author's other writings; indeed, in some respects, it may be said to be superior. It has all the old brilliancy of description, the same sense of humour, and the wonderful accumulation of facts, historical and otherwise, to which Mr. Hepworth Dixon has accustomed his admirers."
Morning Post.

SEVEN GENERATIONS OF EXECUTIONERS.

At all the Libraries, in 2 Vols. 8vo.

MEMOIRS OF THE SANSON FAMILY (1688-1847).

By HENRI SANSON. Translated from the French, with an Introduction, by CAMILLE BARRERE.

"A book of great though rather a ghastly sort of interest. Henri Sanson's reminiscences have their own, and certainly present a side of the criminal history of France for which we should vainly seek a parallel here, but which is something much above a mere chapter of horrors."
Graphic.

Crown 8vo, cloth extra, gilt, price 7s. 6d.

THE WAY WE LIVE NOW.

With Illustrations. NEW AND POPULAR EDITION.

"Mr. Trollope has a true artist's idea of tone, of colour, of harmony; his pictures are one, and are seldom out of drawing; he never strains after effect, is fidelity itself in expressing English life, is never guilty of caricature."

Small 8vo, Roxburghe binding, price 10s. 6d.

THE FIRST EDITION OF SHAKESPEARE, 1623.

An exact reproduction of the rare original, in reduced facsimile, by a photographic process.

With an Introduction by J. O. HALLIWELL PHILLIPS, Esq.

"To Messrs. Chatto and Windus belongs the merit of having done more to facilitate the critical study of the text of our great dramatist than all the Shakspeare clubs and societies put together. A complete facsimile of the celebrated first folio edition of 1623 for half-a-guinea is at once a miracle of cheapness and enterprise. Being in a reduced form, the type is necessarily rather diminutive, but it is as distinct as in a genuine copy of the original, and will be found to be as useful and far more handy to the student than the latter."
Athenaeum.

ASTLE ON WRITING.

Royal 4to, half-Roxburghe, with 33 Plates (some Coloured), price 17. 18s.

A few Large Paper copies, royal folio, half-Roxburghe, the Plates altogether unfolded, price 31. 3s.

THACKERAYANA:

NOTES AND ANECDOTES.

Illustrated by a profusion of Sketches in Facsimile from the Originals by WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.

Depicting humorous incidents in his School-life, and favourite Characters in the books of his everyday reading.

"Any one who would know the extraordinary fertility of Thackeray's genius in the way of comic pictorial art should look over the volume entitled 'Thackerayana.' Some of the sketches in this volume are so excellent as to create some wonder why Thackeray was not still more successful in the same walk."
Daily News.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LAUGHTER AND SMILING.

With numerous Engravings illustrative of the Genera, Species, and Varieties of Laughter and Smiling.

By GEORGE VASEY.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the SATURDAY REVIEW, Aug. 14.

"We suspect Mr. Vasey will have some difficulty in putting down laughter, but it might perhaps be well if people were more reasonable in regard to what they laugh at."

From the NORTHAMPTON MERCURY, Aug. 7, 1875.

"Mr. G. Vasey has written a small, well-printed, and profusely illustrated book, containing a series of clever engravings, showing the distortions which laughter produces on the 'human face divine,' another series of simulated smiles, which are to be avoided, and a third series of refined, intellectual, and amiable smiles. The book is quite a curiosity."

From the LINCOLNSHIRE CHRONICLE, Aug. 20.

"Altogether Mr. Vasey has produced a very readable book, and one which must attract notice, as investigating the nature and questioning the propriety of opinions which are all but universal upon the subject of a habit which is extremely prevalent, and which, in Christendom at least, is regarded with unanimous complacency and approbation."

From the OXFORD CHRONICLE.

"This is a thoughtful, well-written, and amusing book. It is not a mere jest-book (as Mr. Vasey is careful to inform his readers), but a grave and serious investigation into the phenomena of laughter, in its anatomical, physiological, intellectual, and moral aspects."

From the LITERARY WORLD, Aug. 14.

"We are at one with him in his denunciation of certain species of laughter."

From HUMAN NATURE: a Journal of Popular Anthropology.

"It is quite possible that there is too much random emotionalism in the world, and that self-control and definiteness of purpose have too little scope in the lives of many persons. To such Mr. Vasey's book teaches valuable lessons. The aim is pure and wholesome throughout, and yet it is by no means heavy reading. The subject is so well divided that the path is kept remarkably clear before the mind's progress."

"The volume is one of the most handsome we have seen for some time. It is an object of beauty for the table, and it cannot be opened without affording entertainment and instruction to all classes of mind, whether they laugh, smile, or remain serenely indifferent."

From the SHEFFIELD and ROTHERHAM INDEPENDENT, Aug. 19.

"This is a maiden essay on the subject. As far as we know, it has never been attempted before.....The author draws a broad line between laughter and smiling, having no mercy on the one, and speaking nothing but well of the other; and certainly a careful analysis warrants it—the two being unlike in nature, distinct in origin, differing in action, and contrary in effect, producing and manifesting very dissimilar states of feeling. We were much relieved when we came to this statement; for, after reviewing the charge against laughter, and examining his proofs, and concluding that a prima facie case had been made out, we were afraid that in the author's over zeal he might have included smiling in his sweeping accusation. But Mr. Vasey is too good a logician, and too experienced in scientific inquiries, to confound things which so much differ, and both in his argument and illustration—which are really good—he contends—and we think to everyone's satisfaction—that smiling is natural, grateful, and graceful, and worthy of unmingled good report. But laughter, he argues, is not instinctive, not universal, not produced by what is of moral character, not healthy in its action, and not significant of the moral disposition of the laugher."

From PUBLIC OPINION, Sept. 10.

"This work is written by an accomplished physiognomist, who has investigated—carefully and elaborately, with all the seriousness and gravity becoming a scientific or philosophical inquiry—a subject which, at first, might be deemed mere matter for a jest-book. The phenomenon of laughter is brought into the field of vision in all its most important phases—anatomical, physiological, intellectual, and moral."

From the GREENWICH CHRONICLE.

"This is a lively, entertaining and ingenious production, the novelty of which—not to mention the cleverness with which the points in this argument against laughter are put—adds greatly to the interest which its perusal arouses.....We advise our readers to get his book."

From the MONETARY GAZETTE, Nov. 20, 1875.

"We fear that Mr. Vasey has assumed the rôle of advocate, rather than judge, and presents us only with an ex parte view of the subject. Nevertheless, he gives us one or two excellent chapters on the physical mechanism by which this 'remarkable convulsion' is generated. Further, he treats us to much admirable teaching on jokes and on wit; to a very able comparison between gravity and levity; and a learned discussion of the logical relation of the action of laughter to the ideas, objects, or actions which excite laughter.....This is a book to read, if only for its novelty. Its illustrations are numerous, humorous, original, and telling, and there is much to study and much to commend."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the ATHENÆUM.

"Mr. Vasey very properly states that what previous naturalists, as Buffon, Pennant, Goldsmith, Bewick, and Bingley, have written on the subject of the ox, has not much pretension to scientific accuracy.....He has done at least good service by collecting a large quantity of information, and especially in supplying a series of delineations of the different species of the genus Bos. The book represents a great amount of useful work."

From the WESLEYAN TIMES.

"Mr. Vasey has, in the work before us, fully verified his credentials as an author. This, we believe, is the first and only distinct treatise on the genus Bos that has ever appeared; and in the treatment of his subject, both as regards patient and careful research and successful delineation, the author has left little to be desired. He has, likewise, devoted two chapters to the exposure of many inconsistencies in the writings of his predecessors, especially those of Swainson and Hamilton Smith. Had these critiques not been verified by actual quotations from the original works, we should have felt strongly disposed to consider the causticity of the remarks ungracious and uncalled for; but as the matter is exhibited by Mr. Vasey, the absurdity and utter worthlessness of the statement and hypothesis of these writers furnish the best possible reasons for writing a correct and trustworthy volume on the subject."

From the MARK LANE EXPRESS.

"The author brings into juxtaposition all the most important points concerning the various individual species of animals, and by adding several facts of importance hitherto unnoticed, enables the naturalist to define, more correctly than has yet been done, the peculiarities of each species. He has also supplied a new and important feature, that is, the introduction of a Table of the Number of Vertebrae, carefully constructed from an examination of the actual skeletons, by which may be seen at a glance the principal osteological differences of species which have hitherto been confounded with each other. A Table of the Periods of Gestation is likewise added, which presents some equally interesting results."

From the WEEKLY DISPATCH.

"A valuable contribution to zoological science. Comparative anatomy will also derive benefits from this interesting volume."

From the SUNDERLAND OBSERVER.

"This is a valuable addition to our standard works on Natural History. The Author, at an incredible expenditure of time and labour, has produced a voluminous and comprehensive treatise on the natural history of the animals comprising the ox tribe, which, for authentic information and artistic excellence, surpasses every work of the kind yet published. The illustrations which adorn the work, to the number of seventy-two, are monuments of patient investigation and skilful execution, and do infinite credit to Mr. Vasey, who, like the talented Thackeray, knows he can best illustrate his own conceptions."

The Publisher is permitted by Mr. S. C. Hall, F.R.S., whose name stands so high, not only in the Spiritual Movement, but in the World of Art and Literature, to publish the following eulogistic letter:—

"Avenue Villa, 50 Holland Street, Kensington, W. December 27, 1875.

"Dear Mr. Nisbet,—You have sent me a most wonderful book. It has given me intense delight. I cannot exaggerate if I say I have never yet read a book that has given me such deep and delicious joy—with only one exception, The Book which this book so thoroughly upholds. Surely it will be so with all who love the Lord Christ.....Blessed be the God of love and mercy who sent him ('Hafed') to reveal and to elucidate the great truths of the Gospel. Mrs. Hall is reading it now, but I must read it again, and yet again. It will companion the New Testament that stands at my bed-head, and in which I read a chapter every night. Send me two more copies.....Burns says it is cheap: it is worth its weight in diamonds. But I wish it had been in two volumes.—Ever truly yours, "S. C. HALL."
